

It's a disgrace that our country is more focused on what Howard Stern says than the fact that we still haven't found weapons of mass destruction. Howard Stern is being used as a scapegoat for a much bigger problem--the fact that President Bush has everyone scared to death of absolutely nothing. The only thing we should be scared of is Mr. Bush's burning desire to take away our freedom of speech rights. How dare you go along with such a disturbing enterprise!